Dr. McConaughy Resigns As Wesleyan President - Has Many Friends Here

After serving for eighteen years as president of Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn., Dr. James L. McConaughy has presented his resignation to the Trustees and it was accepted with much regret. Dr. McConaughy was elected and served as Lieut. Governor of Connecticut in the term of 1939-1941 and he is now on leave of absence to head the United China Relief organization in this country. Dr. McConaughy was anxious to do a special work in the war service of his country and it was this ambition which motivated his resignation. He went to Wesleyan from the presidency of Knox College and hopes again to re-enter educational work.

Wesleyan's growth under his leadership since 1925 is indicated by an increase in endowment from $5,464,934 to $8,004,123; in plant value from $1,707,008 to $5,518,887, and in the number of the faculty from 55 to 77.

Dr. McConaughy is a graduate of Mount Hermon school and his father was at one time a member of its faculty. He has left a fine record and was esteemed highly in educational circles and his many friends will follow his future career with much interest. In explaining his present action he is quoted as having said that "even a college president can remain in one post too long and overstay his usefulness." He has frequently visited Mount Hermon school and Northfield and has spoken here on many occasions.

Spring Book Display Mount Hermon Library

During this week, about 170 new books have been on display in the Schaeffer Memorial Library at Mount Hermon school. Among these books were many related to the subjects being studied by the various Victory Corps groups. Books on aviation, electricity, meteorology, radio, photography, recreation leadership and forestry were prominently exhibited.

The most popular of the current books on world affairs were Guadalupe diary by Richard Tregaskis; The last train from Berlin, by Howard Smith; Queen of the flat-tops, by Stanley Johnston; and Suez to Singapore, by Cecil Brown. Many adventure novels, travel books, and readable biographies were to be found.

In answer to a continuous demand for military information, some new monographs have been obtained. Detailed information on the various careers in the U. S. Army, the U. S. Navy, and other branches of the services will now be easily located.

District Masons Meet For Exemplification

Tomorrow, Saturday, April 24, the members of the Masonic fraternity of the fourteenth district will gather in Greenfield at the Masonic Hall to hold an exemplification of the several degrees. Lodges participating will be Republican of Greenfield, Mountain of Shelburne Falls, Morning Sun of Conway, Bay State of Montague, Mechanics of Turners Falls, Mount Sugar Loaf of South Deerfield, and Harmony of Northfield. The session will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, followed by supper and an evening meeting. Rt. Wor. Ralph M. Forsaith, who is District Deputy Grand Master, will preside and his staff, which includes Wor. Martin E. Vorce as marshal, Wor. Willis K. Parker as senior warden, Wor. Harold F. Bigelow as junior warden, Wor. Edgar J. Livingston as secretary and Wor. Merritt C. Skilton as treasurer, will assist at the many events. This Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Grange Hall will hold another one of its successful parties and the public is invited to attend. On Tuesday evening, April 27, the Grange will hold a regular session and will work the third and fourth degrees on several new members.

The fire department was called out for a grass fire at Northfield Farms last Friday afternoon.

Local Brotherhood Will Hear Mr. Durgin Relate Experiences

The April meeting of the Northfield Brotherhood will be held Tuesday evening (April 27). It should be noted that this will be the fourth Tuesday of the month rather than the usual third, which falls during Holy Week. The speaker will be Russell Durgin, well known here as one who has had most unusual experiences in the Far East. He was in Japan not only when war broke out, but also for some time afterwards. There are few men whose personal experiences have brought them in so much intimate relationship with the problems and situations in that part of the world. The Brotherhood is extremely fortunate to have as guest and speaker one who is as well informed as Mr. Durgin, for he is much in demand in many parts of the country.

Due to present circumstances the election of officers for the coming year will be held at this time. The nominating committee, with George Carr as chairman, is prepared to make its report.

As usual dinner will be served at 6:30 at the Congregational church, followed by the brief business meeting and Mr. Durgin's address. All of the men of the community are cordially invited to participate in this especially interesting program. The dinner will be prepared by a committee of ladies of the Congregational church under the direction of Mrs. George Carr and Mrs. Edgar Livingston.

War Prisoners Work In Which Dr. Porter Will Soon Engage

The recent decision of Dr. David R. Porter, headmaster of Mount Hermon school, to devote himself to aid for prisoners of war following his retirement June 30, has inspired many questions regarding this important but little understood phase of the war.

Dr. Porter has answered many of these questions and supplied other information which will be of great interest to every family represented at the front by a member or friend. "The key word of Prisoners' Aid," he said, "is 'reciprocity'." In return for certain privileges granted to Axis prisoners in United Nations prison camps, we are allowed certain privileges with our soldiers in Axis camps.

Arrangements for this reciprocal plan were formulated in Geneva in 1929 when the International Conference Relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War was adopted by most of the important nations now involved in World War II. Japan is the great exception, but although not a signatory of the pact, has nevertheless agreed to observe its terms as long as other nations extend its protection to Japanese captives.

There are three agencies charged with the welfare of prisoners of war. The first and official agency is the "high protective power," usually a neutral diplomat. Secondly, the International Red Cross, which registers all prisoners at its Geneva headquarters, forwards mail, distributes food and clothing, and generally oversees their health and living conditions. The third agency is the War Prisoners' Aid of the World's Committee of Y. M. C. A.'s, which provides all sorts of program activities within the camps.

It is with the third agency that Dr. Porter will work. He said that while the physical treatment of prisoners is comparatively good wherever the Geneva Convention is adhered to, the great problem is the dreary monotony of enforced idleness or uninteresting toil. War Prisoners' Aid has undertaken a program with recreational, intellectual, and spiritual phases designed to eliminate these conditions. The educational program is so highly organized that it is now or soon will be possible for an American boy in a German prison camp to continue by correspondence an interrupted college course and receive credit toward graduation. Courses are available in almost any subject and classes organized and often taught by the prisoners themselves are supplied with books and materials by the Prisoners' Aid.

The War Prisoners' Aid is supported by voluntary contributions from private donors, as well as churches and national organizations. American headquarters is Room 511, 347 Madison avenue, New York City.

Thirteen billion dollars—the sum the Treasury must raise in the Second War Loan drive, is only one sixth of the estimated cost of the war for the fiscal year of 1943.

Gets Cable Monday Announcing Coming

A cablegram sent from Cairo, Egypt, from Charles E. Dickerson, formerly, for many years, connected with the United States Embassy in Russia, states that he is now on his way to America, that he is traveling by plane and will reach Washington within three days. He left Cairo last Monday and the message was received in Northfield at the Homestead by Mrs. William R. Moody. His wife, Mrs. Dickerson, who has been with her mother here, since her return from Moscow, has gone to Washington to greet her husband, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Charles E. Dickerson, Sr., who has made her home in Philadelphia during the winter months.

Mr. Dickerson may have arrived yesterday, Thursday, or will arrive today, Friday, and after spending some time with the State Department is expected to visit his mother with his wife and also come to Northfield.

The MacGaffin Wedding

As announced in last week's Press, the wedding of Miss Mary Margaret MacGaffin to Ensign William Bromell of the U. S. Coast Guard took place in New York City at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church on Thursday of last week, with the Rev. Dr. George A. Buttrick, the pastor, officiating. The New York dailies gave a graphic account of the wedding and published the photograph of Miss MacGaffin, now Mrs. Bromell. She was given in marriage by her father and she wore an ivory satin gown and a tulle veil, fastened by gardenias. Her bouquet was of gardenias and lilacs. The bride attendants were Miss Kathleen Chalmers of Scarsdale, N. Y., Miss Edith Reynolds of Passaic, N. J., and Miss Katherine Wright of Salt Lake City. C. Arthur Smith, the groom's stepfather, was best man. After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, Norman J. MacGaffin on Park Ave.

Mrs. Bromell is in her junior year at Vassar college and her husband graduated from Yale last June. Last week he graduated from the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. Miss MacGaffin is a niece of Mrs. William R. Moody and has visited here frequently. The wedding was attended by Miss Virginia Powell of this town, Mrs. Frank R. Smith of New York and Mrs. Arthur Packard of Rye, N. Y., the latter two, daughters of Mrs. Moody and cousins of the bride.

Paradis-Bolton

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bolton of West Northfield announce the marriage of their daughter, June Marjorie, to Corp. Armand E. Paradis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Paradis of Lewiston, Maine, on Thursday, April 15. Rev. Edward C. Dahl, pastor of the Congregational church, performed the double ring ceremony at his home. The couple were unattended. The bride's gown was of wine velvet. She wore a dark blue hat trimmed with white, and a corsage of white carnations and sweet peas. The bride is a graduate of Northfield Seminary in the class of '41, and is a student at Brattleboro Business Institute. The groom attended Lewiston High school, and is a technical corporal in Co. B, 471st Quartermaster Regiment. Corporal Paradis will be located at Manchester, Tenn. The couple left immediately after the wedding ceremony for a trip to Maine.

Arthur Eddy of Highland avenue is reported as very ill and is at the Franklin County hospital for treatment.

The Fortnightly Ends Successful Season Elects Its Officers

The final session of the season and the annual meeting of the Fortnightly Club was held last Friday afternoon at the Alexander Hall with Mrs. Paul Mayberry, president, presiding. She thanked the members and the officers for their fine cooperation during the past year, which helped much in the success of the various gatherings. The nominating committee consisting of Mrs. William Shattuck, Miss Marion Holton and Miss Julia Austin, made their report of prospective officers for the ensuing year and at the election they were unanimously chosen. The officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Paul Mayberry; first vice-president, Miss Natalie Briesmaster; second vice-president, Mrs. George W. Carr; recording secretary, Miss Anne Mattoon; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edgar J. Livingston; treasurer, Mrs. Albert Anderson; auditor, Mrs. Walter Hyde. Directors, two year term, Mrs. Roger Greenwood, Miss Mercy A. Brann, and Miss Evelyn Lawley. Program committee, Mrs. Wayne B. Wells, Mrs. Ethel May and Mrs. C. C. Compton, two year term. Music committee, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. A. Gordon Moody and Mrs. Vernal Hurlbut, for two years.

The usual reports were given by the departments and officers and the treasurer reported a balance of $60 cash on hand. Due to prevailing conditions, much difficulty was experienced in arranging programs as scheduled and substitutions had to be made, however all meetings proved very interesting.

Following the election, a short play, "Diet Begins Tomorrow," was presented by a number of High school girls, Fay Warnock, Barbara Harris, Arline Dunnell, Virginia Bolton and Karlene Tyler, which was both interesting and amusing.

The committee of the club will soon meet and begin their work of planning for another season, the opening meeting probably taking place in early October.

Many School Problems Present Themselves At State Conference

The annual meeting of the State School Superintendents was held this week at the Hotel Statler in Boston and was attended by our Superintendent, Robert N. Taylor. The impact of the war on the educational program of the schools was emphasized by the fact that the problems presented for discussion in conference were new and were brought about by war conditions. The problems as offered were surely the problems of Northfield and Mr. Taylor carried away with him many valuable conclusions to be applied locally.

Some of the problems were: Reorganizing the school lunch program to meet the food shortage and to develop a substitute for the surplus commodities program which is discontinued June 30.

Meeting the teacher shortage. Teacher college scholarships and better pay a probable solution for the emergency.

Student Farm Labor to meet the farm labor shortage was urged in all farming communities. Persons needing help contact the school authorities.

School transportation. Fuel situation, with both oil and coal shortage.

Landman Act to provide nursery schools.

Educational legislation. One to make the minimum teacher's salary $1200, to keep teachers in teaching. Our superintendent will be busy to bring his problems in line.

Quite a number of our citizens attended the buffet supper at the Northfield, Wednesday evening. It was another Neighborhood night.

Friends Of Prisoners Tea At Homestead

Next Tuesday afternoon from three to five o'clock there will be an afternoon tea served at the home of Mrs. William R. Moody at the Homestead in the interest of "The Friends of Prisoners." The women of this town are cordially invited to attend and to hear a talk by Mrs. Florence Chase who is superintendent of the Greenfield branch of the Womens state reformatory. Mrs. Moody will preside at the meeting and welcome her guests.

M. P.s At C. C. C. Camp Vacate The Barracks

The large company of Military Police who were stationed at the Northfield C. C. C. camp for many months have vacated and moved on for another assignment. While located there, the citizens of Orange, Greenfield and Northfield have cheerfully provided for their entertainment and have endeavored to make their stay there pleasant. The commanding officer was Major Robert M. Hamilton of Manchester, Conn., who has been promoted to Lieut. Colonel and is now at Camp Edwards. He served in the first World War and was a second Lieut. at its close and then placed on the list of reserve officers in 1920. He is serving as a purchasing officer at Camp Edwards. Mrs. Hamilton who has been staying at the Northfield Hotel has now gone to Hyannisport. The camp has been placed in charge of Henry Gosler of Warwick as caretaker and with Mrs. Gosler is residing there. No information is forthcoming as to the future use of the camp.

Miss Field Prest County C. E. Union

A large delegation of the Christian Endeavor Society accompanied by Rev. Edward C. Dahl, pastor of the Congregational church, went to Greenfield last Saturday to attend the annual meeting of the County Christian Endeavor Union. The sessions opened at the First Congregational church at two o'clock, with a box luncheon supper and an evening meeting. Rev. Mr. Mildram of the Mount Hermon school gave the principal address and Mr. Dahl was one of the department leaders. At the election, Miss Elizabeth Field of this town was chosen as the County President. The meetings were well attended and all enjoyed a most profitable experience.

The sale of Easter birds at the Bookstore is helping to increase the Service Men's Fund. Thanks are due to Miss Victoria Freeman for the poster and to Mrs. Carl Compton for launching the mass production of birds. Milton Wilde of Mount Hermon is now stationed at the University of Vermont in Burlington.

FIRST PARISH UNITARIAN CHURCH NORTHFIELD

This is an invitation to attend our Easter Service.

EASTER VICTORY

O Jerusalem,
Behold the all-victorious Lord of Life!
His Spirit enters in
Where darkness rules thy gates;
Where the face of man is blackened
With cruel wrongs,
And war, and hate,
And selfishness and sin
His Spirit enters in.
Triumphant Jesus,
Love Divine, we open wide thy gates!
Enter our hearts today;
Thy peace, be our desire
Thy truth renew our lives:
Love make us one
In loyalty to Thee,
The Light, the Truth, the Way,
Unite us as we pray.

April 25, 1943.

Arthur Heeb, Minister.

By getting along with a party-line telephone, you help the war effort. The materials for the many new telephones New England needs are all going into bombers, tanks, guns, and ships. None of us would stem the flow of these weapons if we could.

And getting along with a party-line is easy if these simple rules of telephone courtesy are observed:—

BE CONSIDERATE. A principle of party-line service is that users shall share it fairly.

BEBRIEF. Every second of telephone time is valuable.

HANG UP QUICKLY when you find the line in use.
Your "share it" neighbor will probably not be

THRIFTY MARMALADE
(Using orange and lemon skins)
3 1/2 cups prepared fruit
5 cups sugar
1/2 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, use skins from 6 medium oranges and 2 medium lemons and cut in quarters. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about 1/4 of white part. Put yellow rinds through food chopper twice. Add 2 1/2 cups water, juice of 2 lemons, 1/2 teaspoon soda, and 1 cup sugar. (This 1 cup sugar is in addition to the 5 cups specified above.) Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, filling up last cup with water if necessary. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot marmalade at once. Makes about 8 glasses (8 fluid ounces each).

mon. Mr. Nielsen is in charge of the service, and of the Sunday school classes, which will be held at 2:30.

Monday, at 7:15, the Boy Scout troop will meet in the vestry.

Tuesday, at 6:30, the Northfield
Brotherhood will meet.

Thursday, at 7:30, prayer meeting. Mr. Dahl will lead in a half hour of prayer and praise, and a half hour of Bible study and discussion, using as the basis a booklet by Dwight J. Bradley entitled
"Our Times—What Has the Bible to Say?"

A special meeting of the Trinitarian Congregational Church, Inc.
of Northfield, will be held in connection with this service to vote on candidates to be admitted into membership of the church on Sunday, May 2nd. Church members are asked to make a special effort to attend.

The choir rehearsal will be held
at 8:30.

Return Of Ration Books

The local Rationing Board calls attention to the requirement that ration books of all inductees, or those entering the services, are to be turned in to the Board within ten days after the owner has left for service. This also applies to the ration books of deceased persons, with the exception of the basic "A" gasoline ration book of such a person, which may be retained by any person entitled to use the automobile for which the ration book was issued.

Fish And Game Club Arrange Its Banquet

The local Fish and Game Club announce its annual banquet for Wednesday evening, May 5th, at the town hall and tickets for the same, may be purchased by members and the public, who are cordially invited to attend. President Truesdell in commenting on the event states that all tickets must be purchased in advance and none will be sold at the door. Dancing will follow the supper and there will be the usual award of door prizes. All who attend will be assured a good time.

Married In Brooklyn Gibson-Edson

The marriage of seaman 3c Arthur G. Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Gibson of Greenfield, and Miss Gladys Edson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Edson of this town, took place in the Second Congregational church in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Sunday, April 5th, with the pastor of the church, Rev. C. C. Brown, officiating. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Logan, friends of Brooklyn. The bride was dressed in powder blue with navy accessories and wore a corsage of talisman roses. The matron of honor wore a blue ensemble with white roses. A reception followed at the home of the Logans and the young couple spent their honeymoon in New York city. The bride attended Northfield schools and the Seminary and is employed at the Millers Falls company. Mr. Gibson enlisted in December, 1941, in the Navy and was formerly employed in Greenfield. He is at present on furlough and with his wife visiting relatives in Greenfield and Northfield.

Heads Community Work Rochester, New York

Richard Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Miller of this town, who has been a resident in Norfolk, Virginia, as executive head of the Community Chest, has accepted a similar position with the Community Chest organization of Rochester, New York. This work is one of the largest and most successful in the country and its call to service to Mr. Miller is a fine tribute to his recognized ability. With his wife and family, Mr. Miller will move to Rochester to make their home.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Miller of South Main street announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris Louise, to Aviator Cadet Hans Michael Zachmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zachmann of 3681 Bennington road, Shaker Heights, Cleveland, Ohio. Miss Miller is a graduate of the Northfield High school and attended the Northfield Seminary and Fenn college in Cleveland. Cadet Zachmann is a graduate of Shaker Heights High school and attended Case school of Applied Science. He is now stationed at Maxwell Field, Alabama, where he is training with the Army Air Corps. The wedding is planned for the early summer.

Rationing Facts

April 11. Red "D" stamps in War Ration Book 2 became good Sunday for meats, butter, margarine, cheese, shortenings, fats and oils, and canned fish. Along with the red "A", "B", and "C" stamps, the current "D" stamps will be good through April.

April 25. Red "E" stamps will become valid.

April 30. Last day to use Red A, B, C, D, and E stamps.

April 30. Last day to use the second month's blue food stamps D, E, F.

April 25. Coffee ration stamp No. 26 good for one pound through this date.

May 31. Last day for sugar ration stamp No. 12 for 5 pounds. June 15. Stamp No. 17 in ration book No. 1 good for one pair of shoes through this date.

July 18. No. 5 coupons in Gasoline Ration "A" books good for 3 gallons each through this date.

Sept. 30. Fuel oil coupons No. 5 good for 10 gallons through this date.

If you haven't gotten around to buying a Second War Loan Bond, stop and think what it would mean to you if our soldiers hadn't gotten round to the fight.

Workers in a Michigan refinery fixed up a very low, false door leading to the pay office. On it is inscribed, "You will learn to duck low or if you don't buy a Bond."

"I always find that hen roosting on the mailbox." "Sure. It was hatched from a parcel post egg."

TOWN TOPICS

(Mrs.) Louella F. Tenney of Northfield Farms has sold to Stanley F. and Mary D. Dembeck, also of the Farms, several acres of land on the Pine Meadow cross road. The transaction was concluded last week.

Parents' Day which will be held at Mount Hermon school this year, is scheduled for Friday, May 15, and Tree day will be observed at the Seminary on the 16th.

It will be of interest to our many people who annually lend their support to Crossnore school in the mountains of North Carolina, to learn that 112 boys and 7 girls who received their care and education in the institution, are now in the service of the government.

Arlene Dunnell is the efficient editor of the High school news which comes to the Press quite regularly.

Workmen are busily engaged about the town along the various highways, setting new poles as replacements to carry the wires of the telephone and electric light service.

April thus far has been a month of cold weather, much below the normal and the Weather Bureau states that the cold weather of last week was very severe and on Thursday the 15th it was the coldest since the year 1872. Surely the winter has been long and Northfield has plenty of snow and ice about its woodlands. The snow of last Saturday, all hope will be the last.

Based on the registration figures for Ration Book 1, New England shows a decline in population in all states except Rhode Island and Connecticut. Massachusetts shows a decline of nearly one per cent. Cities and towns also show a decrease except in the states named. Using the same basis for computing the population, Northfield is also on the waning list.

A very important meeting of the Northfield Civilian Defense committee was held Monday evening at the home of Dr. Allen H. Wright, with Chairman George McEwan presiding. Status reports were received from every department.

From Fort Leonard Wood in Missouri comes the information that Norton P. Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Field of this town, has arrived at the Engineer replacement training center for an intensive study of combat engineer duty. Upon completion of his course he will be transferred to another center.

Mrs. Bessie Symonds of Highland avenue, who has been at the home of her daughter and husband in Worcester during the winter months, will return this week-end to reopen her home.

Mrs. Grace Cornell of Winchester road is visiting friends at Wilmington, N. C., after a winter at Daytona Beach, Florida. She hopes to reopen her home here about May first.

Miss Annie L. Richardson, a summer resident and property owner on the Ridge, who resides at North Bridgeton, Maine, is with friends at West Brookfield for a stay.

Many local friends of Miss Edith Courtenay Babbitt, of St. Louis, will be glad to learn that her book on "This Man of Galilee" has just been published and has received high praise from the reviewers. Miss Babbitt for many years a summer resident in Northfield, has a cottage on Rustic Ridge.

It is urged that holders of ration books give them considerable care, so that they may not be lost or liable to be stolen. Don't leave them in your auto where they may be readily picked up. And if you give them to a youngster to go to the store for you, be sure they are returned.

Junior Branch SPCC Fund Raising Plan

The Junior branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children of the County, is a successful organization of the youth who seek to augment the endeavors of the Senior society and its membership is growing, especially in Greenfield, where Mrs. C. Thomas Malbon, formerly of this town, is lending valuable assistance in the work. The branch has hit upon a plan in its effort to raise the funds which it requires and for this purpose has created a "Treasure chest."

The treasure chest consists of a collection of linens, silver, crystal, china, etc., which will be exhibited in the store window of the Wainshall Furniture Co. in Greenfield on April 26th. The society through its friends will seek contributions of money and for each 25 cents given a card is offered as receipt. Every receipt is numbered and early in May a number will be chosen and its holder on a receipt for the donation to the society will be entitled to the contents of the chest. Mrs. Walter Hyde at the Bookstore and Mrs. George Pefferlee are seeking donations in this town.

Critic: "The picture of the horse is good, but where's the wagon?" Artist: "Oh, the horse will draw that."

Don't Miss The Show Next Friday Evening

Under the sponsorship of the local Chapter of the Eastern Star there will be an entertainment in the Town hall next Friday evening, April 30, at 8 o'clock, when for a very small price of admission you can enjoy two and a half hours of solid fun and entertainment. The program calls for the showing of movies: "Topper takes a trip," a musical comedy and short subjects, "Circus days" and "West Point." There will be many local amateur acts presented of singing, dancing and whistling, also instrumental music by local entertainers.

Town hall should be crowded to capacity and those in charge say that there will be no regrets by those attending. Tickets are for sale at the Attic Outlet and any pupil of our schools can earn a free ticket, provided they sell ten. Call and see Mr. Goodspeed and he will explain the matter.

Has Your Book Expired For Gasoline Rations

Quite a number of T gasoline ration book holders (trucks) are evidently using the coupons in their books for gasoline which have expired. The use of such expired books is prohibited and gasoline dealers must not honor coupons from such expired books. Holders must interview their Rationing board immediately and make application for a renewal and turn in their expired books. Unless holders of these books act immediately, penalties may be enforced.

For Service Men Fund Women Invited To Come

Mothers, wives and friends of Northfield's service men are cordially invited to come to Green Pastures (home of Mrs. E. M. Powell) at 3 p. m., Wednesday, April 28, for a meeting at which the following subjects will be discussed: financial report, plans to raise money for the Service Men's Fund, explanation of the War Exhibit in the Historical Society building in May, plans for future monthly meetings, and a roll call of our service men.

At each monthly meeting, an attempt to augment the Savings Fund and from 3 to 8 o'clock there will be on sale new and old articles on 25, 10 and 5 cent tables. Clothes, music, shoes, hats, frames and pictures, children's books, linen, etc., are among the objects for sale. The entire proceeds go to the fund.

A few remaining Northfield cards (used at Christmas time but appropriate for any season) will be sold, also.

A warm welcome will be extended to all to attend.

From Mr. Heeb's Sermon

Speaking on the Palm Sunday theme, "Jesus Our Eternal Triumph in Defeat" at the Unitarian church last Sunday, Mr. Heeb said in part:

The world today is asking "what can we do with our victory?" Jesus as he went down from the Mount of Olives on his triumphant entry into Jerusalem knew what he would do with victory. There was to be a defeat and humiliation for a day but after that a light would shine down the ages against which no man and no nation could prevail for long. If we know what the Christian life really is we would know the paradox that for such there is an eternal triumph in every defeat. The Caesars have had their victories, their triumphant processions dragging their captives at their chariot wheels. Where are they now? Jesus, with a few humble followers who strew palm branches in the way of his humble beast can never be forgotten. Why? Because a Christian, living in that larger realm of the spirit knows something stronger than armies. Jesus knew it. "An idea whose time has come." Today we see a bankrupt world with our hopes shattered, yet the ideal of Jesus is not dead. His willing sacrifice, as he went down those narrow streets of Jerusalem, revealed the true nature of man; the forced sacrifice of the over-lords of the earth hides it. So today we celebrate not the confidence in the human venture, subject to every kind of defeat, but the confidence in the divine venture.

Christians know what to do with victory because Jesus demonstrated, through sacrifice, the law and the nature of eternal victory. The justice and the peace and the compassion of the Man of Galilee is a power no Caesar can ignore for it is the way of all truly victorious peoples.

Extra Food Rations

A service man home on furlough for seven days or longer, may, by showing his leave papers to the local Rationing Board, obtain a certificate for processed food equivalent to 16 points for each week, or fraction of a week of his furlough. He may also get a certificate for meat for 8 points for each three days of leave, a certificate for one pound of coffee and one for one-half pound of sugar.

THE FIRST CROCUS

I found a purple flower beside
 The crumbling shelter
 Of a wall
 Ere I had thought the winter done,
 Or heard the robin's cheery call.

And at the sight of broken loam
 By that small flower
 Of amethyst,
 I glimpsed the open sepulcher,
 And saw again the risen Christ!
 —Author Unknown.

RIGHT APPROACH

Price Administrator Prentiss Brown deserves the wholehearted co-operation of all citizens. He speaks a language which our people understand and appreciate, instead of the $10,000 fine and 10 years in jail" arrogance. When enlarging the rationing program, Mr. Brown said: "The necessities of war have once again compelled the government to ask the American people to bear the burden of another rationing program. I should like to ask the forbearance of the public . . . while the trade is adjusting itself to the new demand and supply conditions." Thus Mr. Brown has spoken in a right approach to the subject and the American people will give him one hundred per cent support. Our citizens will co-operate with the situation understandable.

EASTER

Not again in this century will Easter be so late. The first Sunday, after the first full moon, after the vernal equinox, we call Easter. It sounds complicated. Christmas was made a fixed Christian festival in the 4th century. However changeable the Easter festival the Easter hope is a fixed thing in the heart of humanity.

From the days of the caveman, man has pondered the question: "what is beyond?" Man with a deep-grooved brain for memory also has deep grooves for speculation. Spring with its renewal of life in bud and branch and tree also awakens in the hearts of men the universal question: "Shall we too awaken to new life?" The human mind will never cease to ask! There is nobility and grandeur in the very question. Only a nobleman with hope and faith can approach the question. In every age the answer has been different. Christian, Mohammedan, Buddhist, each have painted in the detail of the picture. Leaving out details, remembering the millions who are perishing on battlefields of a world war in this year of our Lord, it is well to find consolation in the fact that beyond is infinite space, infinite time and a grandeur comparable to what we see and feel on Easter morning. The birds bursting with song, the buds bursting into bloom and the heart of man swelling with the hope and faith that life is infinite, all testify to the law of resurrection. Faith in the Eternal! Who can help it? In this dark year let all thoughtful souls proclaim the universal faith in the infinite, in immortality.—A. H.

The Back Yard Gardener

April snows are a poor man's manure. I've often heard that old saying, and if it's true we shouldn't complain if snows delay the advent of garden planting. In other years, I've always been in favor of May 1 planting in our neck of the woods, thinking that soil needs to be fairly warm before most crops grow rapidly. This year there is a little more definite reason for early planting. By so doing we make the garden produce more total results for the year. Early crops harvested make way for later crops of the same or other vegetables. Hence, this year we should certainly make an effort to have our gardens work over time.

To make our gardens work over time we need to make an extra effort all the way along the line. And the first step is proper soil preparation. Plow or spade to a depth of 7 or 8 inches. Then rake or harrow very thoroughly to make the seed bed firm and mellow. A firm, mellow seed bed aids in rapid germination of seeds, and rapid germination reduces seed losses. A firm mellow seed bed enables plant roots to take up quickly and easily plant food and water.

Some people have the idea that the object of plowing is to make the soil as loose as possible, but air spaces in the soil are detrimental. As I stated before, after plowing the soil must be harrowed into a mellow condition. By mellow I mean fine particles in close contact, but not packed.

Then never forget this point. Vegetables need food on which to grow. Tomatoes are the No. 1 victory crop and they are heavy feeders. In other words, you can't expect to produce good tomato crops on poor soil. I think it goes without saying that every garden will stand an application of some type of fertilizer every year. Some soils need more than others. Every garden will stand lime at least once in three or four years. Barnyard manure is better than commercial fertilizer, but preferably should be supplemented with superphosphate or a complete fertilizer.

A medium application is 40 pounds of 3-8-7 Victory Garden fertilizer per thousand square feet or 25 bushels of horse or cow manure per thousand square feet, or about half that amount of fresh poultry manure. Manure and lime are usually put on at the time of plowing, fertilizer when the seed is sown or the plants set.

Broadcasting your commercial fertilizer is less work than row application. Some folks think you get best results with row application. You may save a little fertilizer by applying in the row or applying in bands. Band application is used on wide row crops only. In applying in the row, do not apply directly in contact with the seeds or plants. Apply in furrows three inches deep on each side of the seed or plant row.

For row application here is the average figure—7 to 8 ounces per 10 feet of row. That is for a row or a foot and a half apart. Where they are two to three feet apart like corn, use around 15 ounces per 10 feet of row. Two level tablespoonfuls equal one ounce of commercial fertilizer. And to save fertility over winter be sure next fall to seed your garden to winter rye.

A Hope Expressed

Now that we will not be permitted to drive cars as freely as we have in years past (who wishes to do so under the conditions), and since Northfield is to have conferences all summer, what an opportunity to have the kind of summer which will send us back to our work refreshed in body, mind and soul. We shall have the chance to get better acquainted with the attractive walks all about Northfield, and to revel in the beauty spots of the surrounding hills. Some feel that this summer promises the crowds such as were here in the days of Dwight L. Moody. Why not? If ever, we need the spiritual inspiration, which this summer may bring to those who come to this noted place.
